

Single Point of Development - Overview

The following topics are covered:

- Natural Development Server Describes the Natural Development Server, which is used to develop and test Natural applications in a remote Natural environment.

For more information on Natural Single Point of Development (SPoD), refer to the SPoD-specific documentation on the current Natural documentation CD and in ServLine24 (Introducing Natural Single Point of Development, Tutorial, Administration Policies and Procedures, Natural Development Server, etc.)