

User Profile Maintenance

The user profile maintenance facilities allow you to add, copy, modify and purge profiles.

On the Administrator Functions menu, enter Code U (User Profile Maintenance).

The Profile Maintenance Menu appears:

On this screen, you can specify the user ID, whose profile is to be handled, and a new user ID to be given a profile by copying.

This chapter covers the following topics:

- Add User Profile
- Copy User Profile
- Select User Profile from List
- Display User Profile
- Modify User Profile
- Purge User Profile

Add User Profile

To add a new user profile, enter Code A (Add Profile) and a User ID on the Profile Maintenance Menu. There does not have to a profile for the specified user ID for the add to proceed.

The Add PAC Profile screen appears:

On this screen, you can enter the name of the user for whom you are making a profile. If you are using Natural Security and the user ID has a security profile, the user name is automatically copied from the security profile.

You can optionally enter a Batch User ID to replace "@USER" in the JCL texts of all batch jobs submitted by the user. You can optionally assign a keyword to the profile. The keyword must be previously defined to PAC.

If you specify Y(es) in the List Locked Records field, a list of the entities locked by the user will be displayed when the user logs on to PAC.

To access an Additional Options window, type Y over the default N in the Additional Options field or press PF4 (Opts).

Specify the rights of the user.

They are listed under three headings: Functions, Maintenance and Retrieval, Entities.

Functions are either allowed (Y) or not allowed (N) and come in three sets:

- Administrator

If these are to be allowed for the user, the user ID must also be linked to library SYSPACA.

- Authorize Migration Events

A Y here is necessary for the user to be allowed to authorize events; the user must also be designated as authorizer in the appropriate migration path record.

- Submit Migration Events.

Maintenance entities are either M (Modify), R (Read), or N (None), and depending on the value specified, PAC builds a dynamic menu for each user. Retrieval entities can either be R (Read) or N (None).

To determine when and by whom the profile was added and last modified, type Y over the third default N in the Additional Options window.

It is an alphabetical list of user IDs. For each user ID a user name and a batch user ID are displayed.

Select a profile for processing by marking it with either M (Modify) or P (Purge). You can also mark an entry with D (Display) to display the profile.

If an entry is marked with M, a Modify PAC Profile screen appears. It is similar to the Add PAC Profile screen.

If an entry is marked with P, a profile purge confirmation window appears.

If an entry is marked with D, a Display PAC Profile screen appears. It is similar to the Add PAC Profile screen, but most of its fields are protected and its profile cannot be modified.

Display User Profile

To display an existing user profile, enter Code D (Display Profile) and a user ID in the User field on the Profile Maintenance Menu.

A Display PAC Profile screen appears.

It is similar to Add PAC Profile screen, but most of its fields are protected, and its profile cannot be modified. Display PAC Profile screens can also be accessed from Profile Selection List screens by entering D in the C column.

Modify User Profile

To modify an existing user profile, enter Code M (Modify Profile) and a user ID in the User field on the Profile Maintenance Menu.

A Modify PAC Profile screen appears. It is similar to Add PAC Profile screen. Modify PAC Profile screens can also be accessed from Profile Selection List screens by entering M in the C column.

Purge User Profile

To purge an existing user profile, enter Code P (Purge Profile) and a user ID in the User field on the Profile Maintenance Menu.
